Volunteers needed for Spring 2017.

For a small time commitment, you can serve as positive role models to kids by sharing what you know about working with money, your career journey and easy-to-understand information about how a business runs. You might be surprised, but a small amount of your time can be life-changing for them. The time commitment can be as little as 45 minutes a week for five weeks. JA will provide an orientation, simple-to-understand materials, and support necessary to help you get started.
