Here is what Creative Arts Academy students are up to....

Right now, the students are currently reading the novel "Olive's Ocean" by Kevin Henkes. The students are using various reading strategies to increase their comprehension, and they are also completing short writing assignments to show an analysis of the text. We are really enjoying the book! Take a moment to ask them about the book because I know they would love to share. Once the novel unit is over we will be moving on to our research project.
